THE METHODIST CHURCH OF MACEDONIA

1280 East Aurora Road

Northfield, Ohio

Almost a hundred years ago, in 1866, the first Methodist Society was organized in the little village of Macedonia. In the intervening years, the people of the church have dedicated four buildings to the worship of God. One building destroyed by fire, was quickly rebuilt. Three times the churches have been outgrown and replaced by larger structures.

The congregation now worships in its fourth building, constructed on land presented to the church by Philip L. Haymes, Sr.

Carl W. Wendi was chairman of the Building Committee.

Consecration services for the church building were conducted in November, 1960 by Bishop Hazen G. Werner of The Methodist Church and the Rev. W. Maynard French, who still serves as Pastor.

The area served by the church includes not only Macedonia, but the surrounding communities as well.

completely separated from any church, so women of every denomination could meet socially each month.

On April 4, 1949 fifteen women met at the home of Mrs. George Strickler and elected the following officers Mrs. Don Hershey, President;

Mrs. Elton Chamberlin, Vice President; Sec. and Treas., Mrs. Noel

Grimm.

At the meetings, bandages are cut and folded to be returned to Akron. As the organization grew, it accepted mending from the Children's Home. Every month additional clothing was donated by member's children as they out-grew them. At Christmas, baskets of new toys and gifts are sent to the Home, plus money for stockings, sox and personal remembrances.

Programs include speakers on subjects of zoning, school problems, voting information and current events. Films on cancer information, Ohio history and vacations have been shown. Tours of Cleveland industries and lectures have been offered. Two annual events are the July picnic and Christmas with children's stories and songs.

Mrs. Elton H. Chamberlin is our present President.

NORDONIA CLUB

This corporation was formed as non-profit, having social and educational purposes.

The first meeting of the Nordonia Club was held at the home of Mrs. Edith S. Carothers on October 3, 1926, who had come as a new resident to the community. A second meeting was held at the home of Mrs. William Lockhart and officers were elected. Mrs. Carothers was the first president. In the beginning the purpose was sociability and the group met at members homes.

In 1931 Mr. William Lockhart offered to give the lot opposite the Northfield-Macedonia High School (now the Junior Hi) on Leonard Avenue, to the Club; provided, that within five years the Nordonia Club would erect a building - one room of which would always be maintained as a library. In order to accept this gift, the Nordonia Club was incorporated on April 19, 1932 as a 'corporation not for profit' having social and educational purposes. Nothing was done about a building within the five year limit.

The seed of the library had been planted. In 1934 the people of the community were asked to donate books to help start the project. Libraries were established in both the High School on Leonard and the Junior High School in Macedonia on Route 631. The work of the libraries had been carried through the years by a relatively few faithful members; however, the entire Club had the responsibility of raising the necessary funds. Mrs. Ray Farr assisted in the early years at the Northfield High School library and in 1937-1938, the year of her Nordonia Club presidency, Mrs. Charles M. Fenton assumed charge of that library and served in that capacity until February 1955. It was on February 3, that the Nordonia Club gave the jurisdiction of the library to the High School, with approximately 3,000 volumes.

The Nordonia Club continued it's library at the Junior High School in Macedonia until February, 1960. Approximately 2,000 books were distributed where they were most needed.

As a new project in November, 1954, the members of the Nordonia Club voted to give $200.00 for the Nordonia Club Scholarship, to be awarded to a 1955 Northfield-Macedonia High School graduate chosen by the Superintendent, High School Principal and Faculty. The scholarship has become an annual award and funds for this purpose are raised annually by the Club members in various ways.

Education and service to the community are the continued aims of the Nordonia Club, currently under Mrs. Joseph Novotny as their President.

NORDONIA HILLS SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL

8006 South Bedford Road

Macedonia, Ohio

The first building in Northfield Center used for senior high school classes was the two-story brick building erected in 1871 and destroyed by fire in 1916. Later the present Northfield Elementary Building, dedicated in 1917, housed both grade and high school until the present Nordonia Junior High School was erected in 1928. This building then served as the senior high school for Northfield from 1928 and for consolidated Northfield-Macedonia Senior High from 1948 until the fall of 1962.

In September 1962, the senior high moved into the new Nordonia High School Building on South Bedford Road. Because of limited funds, the first story was built to accommodate 800 pupils. There were 826 on opening day. Eight additional classrooms and the auditorium were completed early in 1963. When completed and fully equipped, the total cost of this unusually well designed, most beautiful and most practical building will be approximately $1,650,000 and will accommodate a total enrollment of 1,100 senior high school pupils.

Northfield High School was granted a first grade charter in 1928. Macedonia and Northfield School Systems were consolidated in March of 1948. The combined senior high school enrollment on that date was 173. The present enrollment is 818. Nordonia High School is the only senior high school in Ohio operating without study halls, as such. Class periods are 70 minutes long with a minimum of 25 minutes of supervised study following each recitation period. Each pupil enrolls in six subjects, each of which recites four times per week within the framework of a five period day. William Boliantz then High School Principal and Lee M. Patton then Administrative Head of the local schools, worked out this radical departure from the traditional high school program. The State Department of Education granted a seven year experimental period. We are entering the fourth year of this period.

In the spring of 1957 Nordonia High School was accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Universities. This is the highest academic ranking any high school can achieve in the United States.

The new building offers all necessary facilities, equipment and environment for four-year programs in art, drama, home economics, industrial arts, typing, shorthand, secretarial practice, vocal music, instrumental music and music appreciation. A total of 72 different subjects are being offered this school year. Nordonia has long had a chapter of the National Honor Society.

In 1963 the school name was changed to Nordonia Hills High School.

NORTHFIELD BAPTIST CHURCH

Route 82 and Boyden Road

Northfield, Ohio

The Northfield Baptist Church was formed on April 6, 1954 by a merger of two independent Baptist churches. The Village Baptist Church began shortly after World War II. Calvin Ferrell held weekly prayer meetings in the homes of relatives and friends. Later Mr. Ferrell realized the need for a local church building. A new church building was started on Heights Avenue.

After Calvin Ferrell was ordained, the church was formally organized and constituted as an independent Baptist church on April 29, 1951 with thirty-two charter members. Rev. Ferrell served until 1953. Rev. Lynn Rogers was called as Pastor on September 1, 1953.

Meanwhile, late in 1949 the Northfield Center Baptist Church was organized through the efforts of Rev. Harry Hemminger and Mr. C. W Walters, who were not at the time aware of the parallel efforts of Calvin Ferrell. This group too, held cottage prayer meetings in conjunction with Sunday services and in 1951 formally organized their own church. A merger was not contemplated until early in 1954, when it became apparent to the Center Church that they would need a church building. No suitable property was available and early that year, both church boards recommended to their churches that a merger be negotiated.

On July 1, 1954 all services were formally united with Rev. Rogers as Pastor and Rev. Hemminger, Pastor Emeritus. The new church voted to be In fellowship with the General Association of Regular Baptist Churches, the American Council of Christian Churches and the Inter-national Council of Christian Churches. During the next two years, the attendance doubled and it become necessary to hold services as of January 1956, at Lee Eaton Primary School.

On January 16, 1957 the congregation voted unanimously to purchase a three acre site at the northwest corner of Boyden Road and Route 82 owned by Mr. Paul Reusch. With the purchase of the new site outside the Village, it became necessary to change the name of the church. On October 9, 1957 the congregation voted to change the name from Village Baptist Church to Northfield Baptist Church.

A ground breaking service was conducted on Sunday, October 13, 1957. A $50,000.00 bond issue financed the new building. The church owns and operates two buses as a convenience to families and children, who need transportation to the Sunday School and worship services. They cover nearly all of "Olde Northfield" on their regular routes. Plans for a second Sunday School unit are now being considered

NORTHFIELD ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

9370 Akron-Cleveland Road

Northfield, Ohio

The first building in Northfield used for both the high school and grades was a two-story brick building. It was erected in 1871 south of the Greve Chevrolet Agency and destroyed by fire in November, 1916. In the interim, between its burning and the erection of a new building, all classes met in the basement of the Northfield Center Town Hall. Charles Calkins was the principal.

The present main building was erected to house both grade and high school classes. The Board of Education was severely criticized for constructing so large a building with two classrooms not needed at that time. Before the school on Leonard Avenue was built, a double portable building became necessary.

Dedication of the building took place November 23, 1917.

An additional six classrooms were constructed in 1959. Bids were opened on December 20, 1962 for another addition of 12 classrooms, a multi-purpose room and a kitchen.

This school can be reached by telephoning 467-7195 or 467-7196.

NORTHFIELD- MACEDONIA CEMETERY ASSOCIATION

The Northfield-Macedonia Cemetery Association was started in 1894, with the object of improving the cemetery. Mrs. George Bliss was the first President, and Mary Darling the first Secretary.

The first settler of Northfield Township was Isaac Bacon, who came here from Massachusetts in April, 1807. His brother-in-law, Jeremiah Cranmer and family were the next to come in June, 1810. About 1838 a little child of the Cranmers, died and was buried where our Cemetery is now located. This plot of ground contained at that time about one and one-half acres and was given the name of Chestnut Hills Cemetery. For the lack of care, it became an overgrown patch of brush and weeds. There were few roads or trails at this time; consequently there were burial places at Brandywine, Little York and one at the crossroads west of Northfield. Early burials were also made on the Methodist Church lot and private lots on farms. In the fall of 1894, a meeting of the citizens was called in the Town Hall to discuss the matter of forming an association for the improvement of the cemetery. Officers were elected and later that year a meeting was called in the Town Hall to complete the organization and to plan ways and means. At this meeting, sixteen women were enrolled as members and each paid a fee of 25 cents.

In 1913 the Association was incorporated in order to assume the responsibility for money entrusted to them for the use of cemetery improvements. An additional four acres was purchased prior to 1910 and about 1919, the balance of the present plot was bought from Mrs. Martha Graham. The cemetery now contains about thirteen and one-half acres.

The large entrance gate is a replica of one of the gates at Arlington National Cemetery and was a gift from Mrs. Bishop. About 1919, the name was changed from Chestnut Hills Cemetery to Northfield-Macedonia Cemetery.

Mrs. Carl Oldrin is now their President

NORTHFIELD MEN'S CLUB

The Northfield Men's Club had its beginning as the Northfield Lion's Club. The Lion's Club was formed in 1938 with approximately 25 members.

In the spring of 1941, by unanimous vote of the members, it was decided to withdraw from the Lion's organization, but to continue to meet as a group. The newly elected officers of the now disbanded Lion's Club, M. E. Meeker, President; and Franklin Hawks, Secretary-Treasurer, became the first officers of the new organization known as the Northfield Men's Club.

The Northfield Men's Club meets the 4th Monday night of each month, except during June, July and August. Membership is open to any male resident of the political communities included in the Northfield- Macedonia School District. The club is non-political and non-sectarian and is proud to be of service to the community in projects such as the following, to mention a few: the Athletic Banquet for High School Athletic group; co-sponsored with P.T.A., the Christmas party for pre-school and school children; participation in community fund raising activities; sponsoring United Fund Solicitation Campaign; assisting needy families in cases of adversity; contributing to the Community Library Project and a High School Scholarship.

NORTHFIELD PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH (UNITED)

Rt. 82 and S. Boyden Road, Northfield

During early years, families met in homes and log school-houses, to hold church services. The Methodists were served by circuit riders and the Presbyterian-Congregational groups by ministers and students from Hudson. The Methodist-Episcopal Church was organized in 1831. The Associate Presbyterian Church was organized in 1833 and a Congregational-Presbyterian church also in 1833, as a mission church of the Connecticut Congregational-Presbyterian Missionary Society. In 1858 the Associate Presbyterian Church became the Northfield United Presbyterian Church, as a result of a national merger and continued under that name for 98 years.

The various congregations each acquired land for their churches. In 1837 the Presbyterians bought a plot of ground on the northwest corner of the public square, the same year the Associate Presbyterians bought land a quarter mile north of the square and in 1847 the Methodists bought on Brandywine Road, where the home of the Fell brothers was built and presently occupied by the Martin Herberholz family. The buildings erected on these sites were similar in design. The U.P. church built in 1837, cost about $1,000 and was later sold at auction and moved to the business center near the square, where it was used as a cheese factory and warehouse. The larger church which replaced it in 1871 burned in 1889 and was again replaced in 1890 by the church which was razed in early 1964 to give space for the new Community Library. The Methodist church was torn down in 1921. The Presbyterian church, formerly on the square was presumably built in the 1840's and was one of the oldest Presbyterian church buildings in Northeastern Ohio.

In 1915 the Methodist and Presbyterian churches united to become the Northfield Federated Church. After a separate existence of 83 years, the two congregations remained federated for 38 years. Then In 1953 the Federated Church became the Northfield Park Presbyterian Church -taking its name from its location. Finally in 1956 the United Presbyterian and the Park Presbyterian churches merged and became the Northfield Presbyterian Church (United).

During 132 years since 1831, nine different church organizations, representing five Protestant denominations, have struggled, flourished and then merged.

A Christian Education building for the new church was erected at Route 82 and South Boyden Road in 1960. The old Park Church has been moved to a position adjacent to the new building. The present membership of the church is over 700 people and Lawrence A. Glassco is the minister.

NORTHFIELD VILLAGE UNITED PRESBYTERIAN MISSION

Northfield

In 1923, under the pastor of the Northfield United Presbyterian Church, Rev. John J. Ross, mission work was begun in Northfield Village. Worship services were held in a barn, until with the aid of the American Board of Missions and local labor, a building was erected. A Bible School was started in April 1924 and at present has 110 members. A Mary-Martha Missionary Society, which had its beginning before 1926, continues to hold meetings for the church women.

The preaching was maintained by Northfield pastors, under the direction of the Northfield Session. In 1955 it was no longer possible for the work to be supervised by the Northfield Church. Presbytery placed the Mission under the care of the Goodyear Heights United Presbyterian Church of Akron. With their generous aid, many improvements have been made to the building.

From January 1, 1956 until July 1960, Thomas Wilcox of the Goodyear Heights United Presbyterian Church and a graduate of Akron Bible College, served the mission as lay preacher.

For the next one and one half years, the mission was under the care of Cleveland Presbytery and was served by Seminary students from Pittsburgh Seminary and ministers from the Akron-Cleveland area. Since January 15, 1962 a Christian Education Director sent by the Ohio Synod, is helping with the work in the Presbyterian Church at Northfield Center and the United Presbyterian mission at the Village. Lay preachers from the elders of the Presbyterian Church and others are conducting services at the Village Mission.

"Flowers by La Verne"

This business stemmed from a love of flowers and a hobby of long standing. The planting of nursery stock started many years ago by Matilda and Howard Graham without a thought that one day a business would grow. In 1947, a life long ambition was realized when Supply Company. The present site of the office and brick warehouse was occupied at different times the past hundred' and fifty years by a saw mill, cider mill, and flour mill. in 1928, paints and builders hardware were added to the line of coal and builders supplies. During that same year the brick building was erected. A duplicate of the present lumber warehouse, stocked with 4-square lumber, was totally destroyed by fire in April, 1933, two years after it was newly built. In order to serve the lumber customers after the fire in 1933, the Bedford yard at 470 Broadway was opened. In October, 1945, this yard was leased to Holbrook Lumber Company.

The company enjoyed the flush times and weathered the depression of the thirties. The reverse situation of selling took place during the coal strike, when the demand for coal exceeded the supply, and lumber items during the war, when customers were willing to pay any price for even poor quality. Next to the fire loss in '33, the big wind of May 12, 1956 was the most damaging. But that loss was withstood as were the floods of three former years, the last in 1946, when the tornado and water caused much property damage to Northern Summit County. In 1958 Mr. Ray A. Watson purchased the inventory and equipment owned by The Fenton Lumber & Supply Co., starting in business on April 1, 1958, under the name of The Watson Lumber and Supply Company. In the spring of 1959 Mr Watson r~modeled the brick warehouse and office building, adding a large store space, increasing the paint and hardware inventory, and has added lawn seed and fertilizer. Remodeling is a specialty of this concern.
